To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to recommend Sensible Business Consulting Group (SBCG) as a premier organization of innovative thinkers, problem solvers and enthusiastic facilitators. We challenged the SBCG Team to create a unique blend of workshops aimed at inspiring our students to reach beyond their current circumstances to see the relevance that Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics has on their daily lives. SBCG responded by showing our students how leadership coupled with engineering methodologies can be used to solve common problems they face daily. SBCG creatively introduced goal setting matrices, cause and effect diagrams and continuous improvement processes through beneficial case studies on life and leadership. They also brought in engineering professionals to role model and share their personal testimonies about the importance of problem solving and succeeding in Science and Technology.

The seminars were energetic and informative and not only challenged our students but the parents who participated as well. Both parents and students were encouraged to work together in teams and share their individual perspectives on each of the topics that were presented. The result was a truly rewarding experience filled with value that our student can apply now and in their future academic careers.

We are thrilled with level of SBCG's craftsmanship and professionalism and look forward to retaining their services for our programs in the future. If you need additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me at jdlee@dapcep.org.

Sincerely,
